Rare and restored World War and Cold War binoculars.

HISTORY

Used in trench warfare during WWI; for spotting enemy aircraft during WWII; and for covert surveillance along the Berlin Wall during the Cold War.

Anti-aircraft binoculars were the first line of defence during WWII before the advent of RADAR.

AESTHETICS

Stripped, dis-assembled, treated, blasted, re-assembled, polished and tripod mounted to result in timeless masterpieces you see today.

FUNCTION

Manufacturers during this golden era spent an enormous amount of time and energy perfecting and fine tuning the bi-optics to get an edge over the enemy.

These are still some of the best functioning lens around today.

Manufacturers include:- Carl Zeiss, EUG, Busch and Schneider, Nikko, Fuji and Ross.

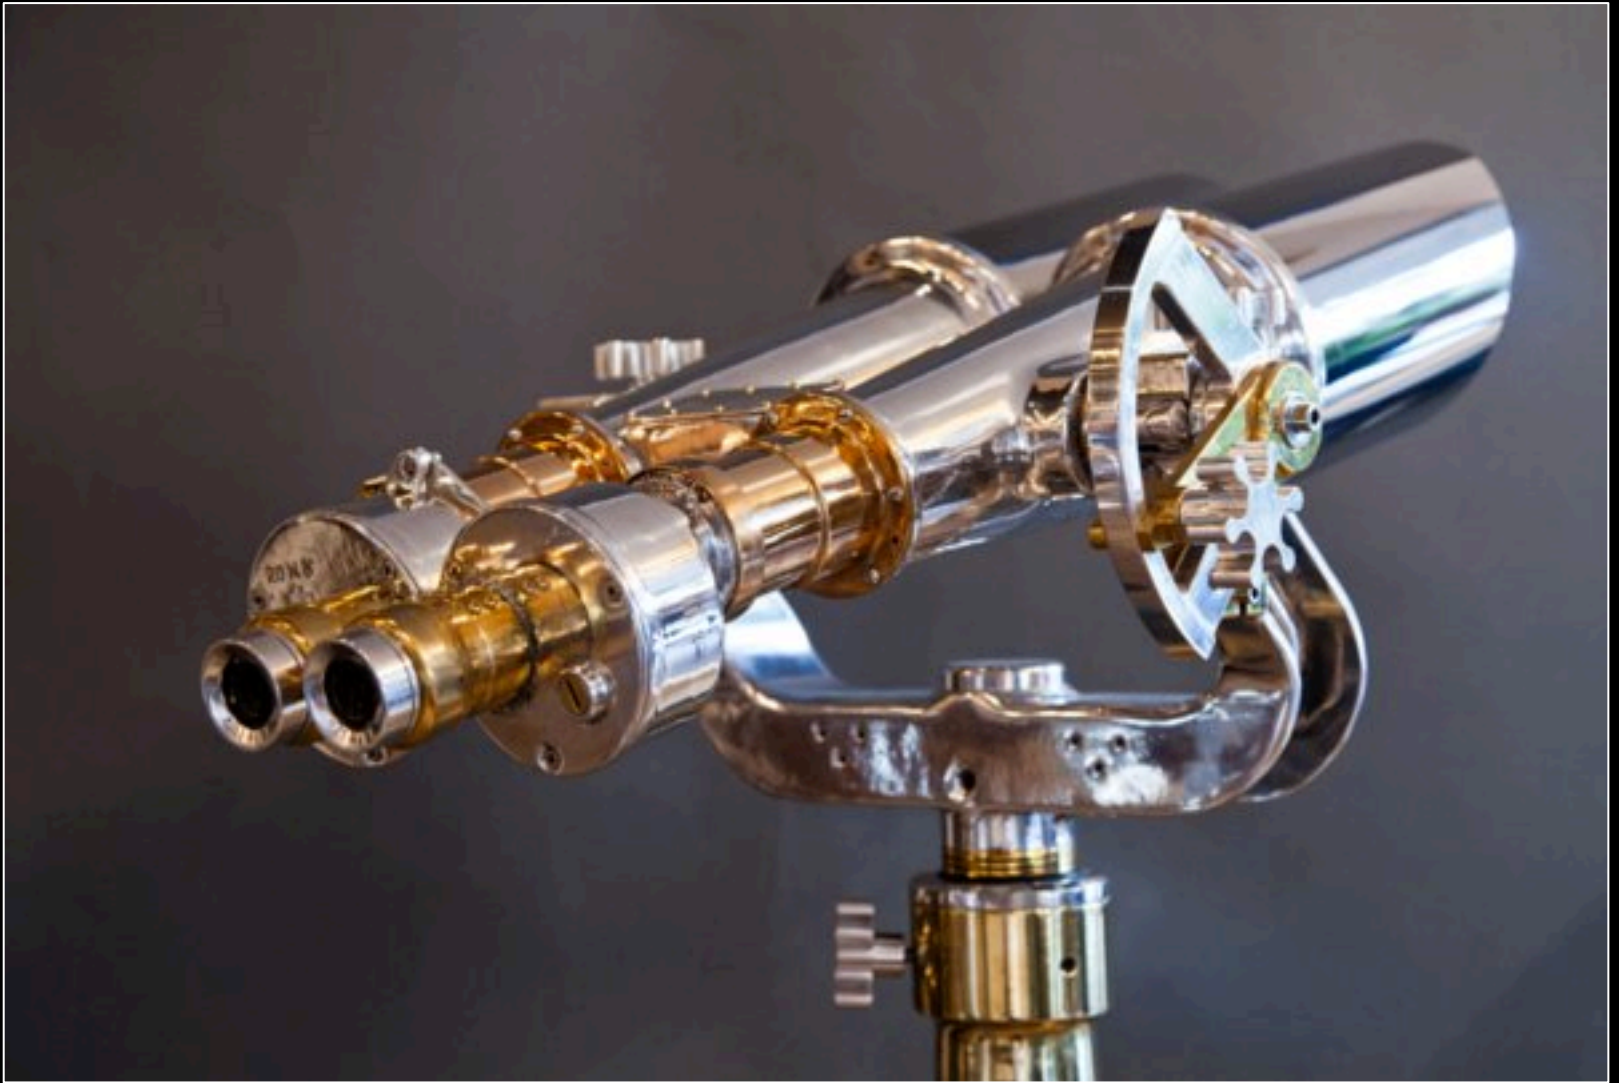

For the discerning and serious collector.
